概要

Benjamin W. Corn, MD, FASTRO, is Professor of Oncology at the Hebrew University Faculty of Medicine and Deputy Director of the Shaare Zedek Cancer Centre in Jerusalem. He has authored more than 250 articles/chapters/reviews in the medical literature and is the principal investigator of the NCI-sponsored study (NRG CC003) to determine whether the hippocampus is a CNS centre for hope.

He is Chairman of Life's Door (LD), an NGO he co-founded with Dvora Corn to address the emotional needs of patients diagnosed with cancer and the family members and professionals who care for them. Over the past decade, the organisation has focused on using hope as a tool to help these respective stakeholders, and LD currently oversees programs that serve more than 10,000 people annually.

He received the National Citation for Volunteerism from Israeli President Shimon Peres in 2012 and was the recipient of the 2021 Humanitarian Award from the American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO).
